Crack Shots of Keokuk.
[From the Burlington (Ia.) Hawkeye.]
A Keokuk darkey was caught in the act of robbing a deck passage on the Rob Roy early Saturday morning. The robber broke away and ran, but all Keokuk turned out with revolvers and shot at him. Tons of led whistled through the air and fell in the streets, and the unscathed, accommodating shade gave every man a crack at him. He even waited for one marksmen go home after his revolver, and the only request he refused was that of a man who had pawned his pistol and wanted the fugitive to wait until he could sell his dog and get the artillery out of town. He hadn't time to wait, but he compromised by letting this man throw a brick at him. Then the robber departed, and Keokuk put away the guns and went to sleep to dream about the mutability of human affairs and the uncertainty of pistol practice.

Reading by Subjects
[St. Nicholas for September.]
But perhaps you don't know how to read by subjects. Let me tell you. Suppose you see an allusion to something that interests you—say Sir Walter Raleigh; look for his name in an encyclopedia or biographical dictionary (which you will find in every tolerable village library). Reading of him you will become interested in Queen Elizabeth; look her up in the same books, and in English history; observe the noted men of her reign, look them up, read their lives; read historical novels and poems of her times; look at the table of contents of magazines and reviews, and read essays on the subject. You see the way open before you. Once make a start, and there is scarcely any end to the paths you will wish to follow.

If you have no special subject of interest, take up an encyclopedia, slowly turn the leaves, and read any item that attracts you, not forcing yourself to read anything. If you have any life in you you will find something to interest you; then you have your subject. If it is some historical person or event, proceed as I have already indicated; if scientific, overhaul the dictionaries of science, lives of scientific men, discussion of disputed points, etc.; if geographical, turn to gazetteer, books of travels, etc. One book will lead to another.

Right here let me say, I hope you have access to these works of reference, either in your own house, or that of a friend, or at a public library. But if your case is the very worst—if you have none, cannot buy them, and have no public library in your neighborhood, let me advise you to drop every thing else, and make it sole and special mission to start one, either by influencing your parents and older friends, or by getting up a club of your mates. A strong will and earnest effort will accomplish wonders, and all older people are willing to help younger ones to useful tools.

A dispatch from Ragusa reports that Prince Milan has entrusted Col. Despotovich with the chief command of the insurgents in Bosnia. He has defeated the Turks at Petrovatz, setting fire to the town. The Turks have left the Austrian frontier, and are concentrating in the vicinity of Livno. A body of about 5,000 Turks has been defeated at Jankovo. The Turkish forces now in the vicinity of Albania are estimated at 40,000 men.

The Turkish minister at Washington, Aristarch Bey, has received an official declaration by the Turkish government, dated the 19th, giving the history of the beginning of hostilities with Servia and Montenegro, representing that the Port was compelled to repel aggression by force, and that the Port had religiously adhered to the treaty of Paris, and the responsibility of having broken their treaty stipulations rests on the princes of Servia and Montenegro.

CENTENNIAL EXHIBITION

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

This great International Exhibition, designed to commemorate the one hundredth anniversary of American Independence, opened May 10th, and will close November 10th, 1876. All the nations of the world and all the states and territories of the Union are participating in this wonderful demonstration, bringing together the most comprehensive collection of art treasures, mechanical inventions, scientific discoveries, manufactures, achievements, minerals, specimens, and agricultural products ever exhibited. The grounds devoted to the exhibition are situated on the site of the Pennsylvania R.R. and embrace 450 acres of Fairmount Park, all highly improved and ornamented, on which are erected the largest buildings ever constructed—five of these covering an area of 450 acres and costing $5,000,000. The total number of buildings erected for the purpose of the exhibition is near two hundred. During the three days immediately following the opening of the exhibition a million and a quarter of people visited it.

THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.

THE GREAT TRUNK LINE

AND

FAST MAIL ROUTE OF THE U. S.

Is the most direct, convenient and economical way of reaching Philadelphia and this great Exhibition from all sections of the country. Its trains too and from Philadelphia will pass through a grand Centennial depot, which the company has erected at the main entrance to the Exhibition grounds for the accommodation of passengers who wish to stop at or start from the numerous large hotels contiguous to this station and the Exhibition—a convenience of the greatest value to visitors, and afforded exclusively by the Pennsylvania Railroad, which is the only line running direct to the Centennial buildings. Excursion trains will also stop at the Encampment of the Veterans of Husbands, at Elm Station on this road.

The Pennsylvania Railroad is the grandest railway organization in the world. It contains seven thousand miles of roadway, forming continuous lines to Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, and Washington, over which luxurious day and night cars are run from Chicago, St. Louis, Louisville, Cincinnati, Indianopolis, Columbus, Toledo, Cleveland and Erie without change. Its main line is laid with double and third tracks of heavy steel rails upon a deep bed of broken stone ballast, and its bridges are all of iron or stone. Its passenger trains are equipped with every known improvement for comfort and safety, and are run at faster speed for greater distances than the trains of any line on the continent. The company has largely increased its equipment for Centennial travel, and will be prepared to build in its own shops, at short notice sufficient to fully accommodate any extra demand. The unequalled resources at the command of the company of the company guarantee the most perfect accommodations for all its patrons during the Centennial Exhibition.

The magnificent scenery for which the Pennsylvania Railroad is so justly celebrated presents to the traveler over its perfect roadway an ever-changing panorama of river mountains and landscape views unequalled in America.

The eating stations on this line are unsurpassed. Meals will be furnished at suitable hours and ample time allowed for enjoying them.

Excursion tickets, at reduced rates, will be sold at all the principal railroad ticket offices in the West, Northwest and Southwest.

Be sure that your tickets read via the Great Pennsylvania route to the Centennial.

FRANK THOMSON, D. M. BOYD, Jr.,
Gen. Manager. Gen. Pass. Agt.
